Undeclared War Near End

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak said today a surprise visit by an Indonesian military delegation to Kuala Lumpur promises an end to the 3-year-old undeclared war between the two countries.

Fire Bombs Set Four Blazes In Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—“Molotov cocktails” set four fires Thursday night in Bakersfield’s Negro district where racial trouble broke out earlier this week.

Assistant Fire Chief Robert Paddock said one fire bomb caused destruction of a residential garage with damage estimated at $3,500.

Paddock said three other fires were set but were confined to vacant lots and part of one building with minor damage reported.

Police Lt. Clyde O’Kane said no arrests were made. Paddock said several suspects were under investigation.

Last Sunday night, 125 law officers were called to quell a major disturbance. Small groups of youths began throwing bottles and rocks at police following an argument between Negroes and officers at the scene of a traffic accident.

One Negro youth was shot in the leg by an officer who said the youth was about to throw a bottle.

Trouble continued in the neighborhood Monday and Tuesday nights, but it was quiet Wednesday night.

MEMORIAL DAY FATALITY COUNT WILL BEGIN EARLY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The recording of Memorial Day weekend traffic fatalities will begin six hours early, the Department of Public Safety has announced.

Gov. Otto Kerner requested the change after learning Illinois traffic deaths were up 20 percent from 1965, a department spokesman said Thursday.

The state police plan to double their usual enforcement patrols during the period, beginning at noon Friday and extending four hours after the holiday death count ends at midnight Monday, May 30.

'Jungle' War Games Grim—Except To Kids

By BRUCE COOTER
FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—For the soldiers and their wives in the jungle villages, it was deadly serious — these war games providing Viet Nam-type training for the paratroopers at Ft. Campbell.

But the kids were having a picnic.

The women and children, dependents of servicemen in Viet Nam or facing the prospect of going there, added a touch of realism by living during the five-day maneuvers in six villages scattered through the jungle like terrain of the sprawling military reservation.

The maneuvers end at sundown today.

This is the home of the famous 101st Airborne Division. The division and the fort both formerly were under the command of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, now American military commander in Viet Nam.

“The villages are important

“You now can see the ending of the confrontation,” Razak said after talks with the delegation of eight high officers.

The Indonesians came to Kuala Lumpur today to complete preparations for peace talks between Razak and Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik which start in Bangkok, Thailand Monday.

The visit has “definitely created a very congenial and happy atmosphere” for the meeting, Razak said, adding the Indonesians now “are ready to make peace and end confrontation.”

“They have put complete confidence in us,” he said, pointing to the fact that most of the officers in the delegation came from the staff of the “Crush Malaysia” command.

The group, led by Rear Adm. O. B. Sjaaf and Brig. Gen. Kemal Idris of Kogam, brought it a message of good wishes and good will to Malaysian government leaders.

Malaysian officials embraced the Indonesians as they stepped off their plane and then took them to Razak. The Indonesian officers later flew to the northern city of Alor Star to meet with Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman who is vacationing there.

The officers are believed to be the first Indonesian officials to visit Malaysia since President Sukarno launched his campaign to crush the new federation of former British territories three years ago.

The veterans are patients at Great Lakes Naval Training Center and were to be entertained Thursday by Mundelein community leaders at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, but Porter Parris, a Hilton vice president decided not to accommodate the party.

“We know we will get complaints if we do this,” Parris added, “... my responsibility is for the success of the room. People come in and pay cover charges and high prices and they want relaxation and things pleasant.”

“Most of the time they resent things like this (having wounded veterans there).”

Paul Foss, mayor of Mundelein, said treating veterans at a special show would be treating them like second class citizens.

Sumption was quoted as saying, “It was just a put-up deal. I shot a hole in the patrol car myself and had a person take me to Springfield, Ill., where I bought a bus ticket to Albuquerque.”

Sumption’s patrol car had been found Tuesday near Tuscola, Ill., with bullet damage and blood stains. He called the sheriff’s office in Albuquerque Wednesday night, saying he had been abducted near Tuscola and brought to Albuquerque by four men.

He was taken to a hospital for observation.

The earlier report from Sumption he told officers he could not remember details of the trip.

Sumption’s story was changed in a telephone call late Thursday night to Sheriff Wilson after questioning through the day by sheriff’s officers and FBI agents who were investigating to determine if a federal law was violated.

Sumption was quoted further as saying he had “been having financial problems and I was worried about the sheriff’s race coming up. I just wanted to get away from it all.”

He is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Douglas County, Ill.

Asked why he chose Albuquerque for his trip, he said only that he had read a brochure about the city at the Springfield bus depot.

There was no indication why he decided to change his story.

Illinois Bell Gets Permission To Cut Rates

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. has received permission from the Illinois Commerce Commission to cut $8.5 million from its annual telephone service rates.

Some of the new rates go into effect today. The others become effective July 2.

Most of the new rates apply to daytime intrastate long distance calls and to calls within the Chicago suburbs.

Long distance rates within 37 to 100 miles of Chicago will be cut five to 15 cents.

Unit charges on some 38 million calls a year within a 28-mile radius of Chicago outside the long will go down from five to 15 cents.

The approval of the reductions was announced Thursday by James Karber, commission chairman, who said negotiations between the phone company and the commission have resulted in more than $30 million in reductions since 1961.

Several other charges were reduced or eliminated:

— The price of a color phone will be reduced from $4 to $2 effective today.

— Overtime charges on intrastate long distance calls will be reduced by some $2 million yearly.

— The $5 charge to change from a dial phone to a touch-tone phone will be eliminated.

— Current charges of $5 to $7 to move a phone in the same building will be set at $6.

— No charge will be made for putting advance phone service into homes under construction.

LBj Deplores Racial Policy In S. Africa

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, in his first major policy statement on Africa, has publicly deplored racial and political injustice there. Officials said his words applied to Rhodesia, South Africa and Portugal’s African colonies.

Addressing more than 300 African diplomats and others at an informal White House reception Thursday night, Johnson described as repugnant “the narrow and outmoded policy which in some parts of Africa permits the few to rule at the expense of the many.”

In what was described as a general statement of principle, Johnson said, “The government

Sheriff Admits Tale Hoax

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—An Illinois deputy sheriff has moved from a hospital to the county jail after telling officers his story of being assaulted and abducted on a 1,500 mile trip to Albuquerque was a hoax.

Sheriff Joe Wilson of Albuquerque said today the deputy, Robert D. Sumption, 34, Tuscola, Ill., might be charged with a misdemeanor, giving police a false report.

Chicago Hotel Fears Wounded 'Depressing'

MUNDELEIN, Ill. (AP)—A planned party at an ice show was canceled for 96 wounded Viet Nam veterans when the manager of a Chicago hotel decided the presence of the servicemen would depress other patrons.

The veterans are patients at Great Lakes Naval Training Center and were to be entertained Thursday by Mundelein community leaders at the Conrad Hilton Hotel, but Porter Parris, a Hilton vice president decided not to accommodate the party.

Reaction To Campaign Plan Mixed

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—The prospect appeared bleak today for congressional action on President Johnson’s latest proposals to tighten controls over campaign contributions and spending. (Full account of President’s suggestion on inside page.)

The President’s suggestion Thursday for a $100 income tax deduction for political donations got some bipartisan support, but the verdict of many lawmakers was nothing would come of it this election year.

Because of this mixed reception, Johnson’s bill seems headed for the same kind of cold storage treatment encountered by similar bills he sponsored as a senator.

Gemini 9 And Surveyor Get Set For Space

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The Gemini 9 spaceship has gone through three practice countdowns to enable technicians to check its complex electronic systems and inflight procedures.

At another pad a moon landing Surveyor craft was hoisted toward the tip of the Gemini booster rocket as the space agency headed for an end of the month spectacular.

Backup astronauts James A. Lovell Jr., a Navy captain, and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., an Air Force major, were at the controls for Thursday’s tests. They took over to give prime pilots Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan time to rehearse what Stafford calls a “far more challenging” flight plan than originally was slated before their Agena target satellite plopped into the Atlantic May 17, ruining Gemini 9’s first try.

For Air Force Lt. Col. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Cernan, who plan to chase a substitute target satellite into space Tuesday, Thursday’s activities consisted of a detailed review of their revised flight plan and several hours inside a practice capsule.

Meantime, technicians raised a spider-like Surveyor spacecraft to the top of its 11-story tall Atlas-Centaur rocket. The spindly Surveyor is due to blast off at 10:39 a.m. (EDT) Monday to begin a 63-hour, 230,000-mile trip to the surface of the moon.

Just before it arrives, a set of braking rockets hopefully will fire so Surveyor’s pad-like feet can set gently on the moon.

On this first Surveyor mission, project officials said they would consider the shot a success if they can get past a complicated midcourse maneuver.

A major physical examination for Stafford and Cernan is planned Saturday.

The new target satellite — known as an Augmented Target Docking Adapter (ATDA) — is about 11 feet long, 15 feet shorter than the Agena.

Cuban Soldiers Slip Into Base; Gunfire Erupts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Cuban soldiers slipped through the Guantanamo Naval Base perimeter and engaged in gun fire with sentries Monday night, the Defense Department said today.

A spokesman said the Cubans fired on sentries and the base defenders returned fire. The Cubans then fled with no apparent wounds.

This new incident came only two days after a Marine sentry killed a Cuban soldier who reportedly penetrated the base boundary fence and then fled.

A Pentagon spokesman said there have been 11 such incidents so far this year.

No explanation was given for the increased Cuban efforts to gain access to the base.

After Saturday’s fatal wounding of a Cuban soldier, Cuba’s armed forces minister, Raul Castro, demanded that the United States abandon the naval base.

In its version of the shooting, the Pentagon said a Marine sentry fired on an armed Cuban soldier when he ignored a warning shot.

HUMPHREY 'VERY HAPPY MAN' ON 55th BIRTHDAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey celebrated his 55th birthday today and said “I’m a very happy man.”

“Good health, a lovely wife, a fine family, good friends — and the opportunity of public service. What more could anyone want?” he added.

Humphrey and his wife planned to fly to their Waverly, Minn., home tonight with Agriculture Secretary and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman as their houseguests.

Mrs. Humphrey has invited 35 friends there to an informal backyard birthday buffet Saturday. The main course will be fried chicken: Humphrey’s favorite food.

Red Cong Add Names To American War Dead

By GEORGE MACARTHUR
SAIGON (AP)—For 98 years Americans have set aside May 30 as Memorial Day to recognize their fighting men struck down in battle.

This coming Memorial Day the Communist Viet Cong — by bullet, grenade and booby trap — will add another dozen names to the list of more than 500,000 American war dead.

The Vietnamese war has added 3,466 American dead to those honored each year on Memorial Day.

Inexorably the toll goes higher, averaging 90 a week.

Within three months Viet Nam seems likely to hold dubious distinction as America’s fifth most-costly war, ranking just behind Korea where 33,629 died.

While Memorial Day will be noted with ceremonies and speeches across America, it will receive only hasty attention in Viet Nam where the men are falling.

At all American installations — from the bomb-scarred embassy in Saigon to the sandbagged 1st Cavalry command post at An Khe — the U.S. flag will be flown at half staff until noon.

From the battalion level up, brief, noontime services will be held in tents, huts and open clearings.

“They will have as many of the troops present as possible under combat conditions,” said J. G. Gessell, of Rochester, N.Y., acting chief of chaplains in Viet Nam.

Few of these men in the jungles, elephant grass and rice paddies will have much time or inclination for the outward emotionalism of Memorial Day.

“This is a hard-working army that doesn’t go much for such things,” said an Army spokesman whose experience dates back through World War II. “Parades and Viet Nam don’t mix.”

Spain Eyes Common Market, Perhaps NATO

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—Spain again is making diplomatic soundings about tying in with the European Common Market and, perhaps at some future time, with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was reported today.

Diplomatic sources said Madrid seeks early negotiations with the European economic committee on her bid for some form of association with the situation continental market group.

Spain also was described as hoping for a NATO link after the troubled Atlantic defense organization takes its new shape. France is pulling out of the integrated military system July 1 and the other 14 NATO allies meet in Brussels June 6-8 to weigh how to revamp it.

It was understood Spain seeks U.S. support in its common market bid and also has made approaches in other capitals. It (Continued On Page Seven)

Chimps Pioneer Tests Of Space Walk Limits

By JAKE BOOHER JR.
ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—School trained chimpanzees, pioneers in exposure to the airless void of space, are helping the space agency define safety limits for space walking astronauts.

Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan is scheduled for a 2-hour, 25-minute space walk during the Gemini 9 flight. Data from the chimp tests to date indicate Cernan could be rescued if suddenly exposed directly to the vacuum of space.

The animals are part of the Chimp College at Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo. Enos and Ham, astrochimps who rode rockets into space, were trained at the school.

Since 1964 the 6771st Aeromedical Research Laboratory at Holloman has been conducting tests for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in which the chimps are exposed in rapid decompression chambers to simulated altitudes of 150,000 f.e.t. An astronaut would encounter such an altitude should his space suit rip or his face plate break during a space walk.

U.S. Gives Guarantee Of Safety

45 Americans Flown From Hue

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The leader of rebellious Vietnamese Army forces in Hue, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, was flown under a U.S. guarantee of safety today to a secret meeting with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Ky flew from Saigon to meet his bitter rival as U.S. planes evacuated 45 American and other foreign civilians from Hue and the Buddhist stronghold’s pro-government mayor moved out of the city with 1,000 loyal troops to a fortified headquarters five miles southeast of Hue.

Ky and Thi, whom the premier had fired as commander of the 1st Corps on March 10, met at the U.S. 1st Marine Division’s headquarters at Chu Lai, about 85 miles south of Hue.

Ky’s dismissal of Thi, who controlled South Viet Nam’s five northern provinces, precipitated the country’s present political crisis. Politically minded Buddhist leaders seized on the unrest the ouster generated in the north and converted it into a movement demanding the military government’s replacement by a civilian regime.

U.S. officials had tried before without success to get Ky and Thi together in hopes some agreement could be reached which might lead to an easing of the political crisis.

A U.S. plane brought Thi from Hue to Chu Lai to meet Ky, then flew him back to Hue after the meeting.

There was no immediate indication of what transpired between the two generals. (Continued On Page Seven)

Aid For The Retarded

One of the most heart-lifting endeavors in our society is the effort to give the mentally retarded the best possible chance to live useful, satisfying lives. This effort is carried on by many groups, both private and public. They approach the task in a variety of ways, and have made notable progress.

President Johnson's creation of a national committee on mental retardation can be expected to give vigorous impetus to this work. At the very least, the group headed by Secretary Gardner of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare should do much to coordinate what is being done by private organizations and by agencies of federal, state and local governments.

The need for better coordination, and the possibilities of achieving it, is one of the committee's two principal concerns. The other, equally important, is to generate more support for the efforts of professional organizations, citizens' groups and others to help the mentally retarded.

This is the keynote: to help those thus afflicted. And it is a far from negligible side result that, as they are helped, society as a whole also will receive benefits. Creation of a presidential committee is a promising step in this direction.

Universal Service?

Defense Secretary McNamara's philosophizing about national service for all young Americans went beyond the immediate question of how to minimize present military draft inequities. It can be applied to that, but it also can be taken — and already is being taken — as the starting point for discussion of much broader questions relating to the citizen's obligation toward his homeland.

The idea of universal service to country is an old one. It was developed by the ancient Greeks, though largely in military terms. It has cropped up in various societies since then.

Unfortunately, the concept has been developed with the most zeal in our time by totalitarian regimes. It is common for them to require each young man and woman to serve the state in some capacity or other for a period of years. This is not cited by way of invidious comparison with McNamara's proposal, but merely as something to be kept in mind when the matter is debated.

What McNamara suggested was that we ask "every young person in the United States to give two years of service to his country — whether in one of the military services, in the Peace Corps or in some other volunteer developmental work at home and abroad." Senator Javits of New York has brought forward a similar proposal.

On the face of it, such a universal service system is an appealing idea. It would be, moreover, a far cry from the dictatorial method of shunting young people about at the whim of the state with no regard for their personal preference. The similarity to the totalitarian system can be regarded as a warning flag, however; the idea must be thought through with care so as to avoid the pitfall of undue youth regimentation. Thought should also be given to possible exceptions. For example, it can be argued that a brilliant young student in physics could serve his country better by continuing in that field instead of interrupting his studies for two years while he labored abroad with the Peace Corps.

The McNamara proposal serves the useful purpose of focusing attention on an important matter. It is a matter that should be most searchingly considered.

Doodling Husband Marks Up Paper

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Every day, my husband grabs the newspaper before I do. He reads only two things — the sports page and your column. This takes about 15 minutes.

But he does not hand the paper over when he has finished reading it. No siree. He spends another 15 minutes drawing moustaches on all the pictures — then he puts pipes in all the mouths. It makes me boil to have to read a paper after he has marked it up.

Just once I'd like to see what you look like without a moustache and a pipe, Ann. Say something to the big nut.

H. L. A.

Dear H. L. A.: I have nothing to say to him but I "do" have something to say to you:

Order a second subscription. Enjoy the paper with your coffee and let him decorate his foolish head off.

Dear Ann Landers: A few months ago an Army buddy of my husband's telephoned to say he is now a patient in the veteran's hospital 10 miles from here. He said he had a weekend pass and asked if he could come to our house. I agreed, thinking it would be a pleasant treat.

Well, it has been a series of drunken orgies every weekend since January. I told my husband that I cannot stand it anymore and he said, "Shut up. This is my house, too."

Our three children are ashamed to have guests over and I am a nervous wreck. Last weekend the men got so bombed they couldn't make the stairs. I heard them falling down and getting up all night long. This morning I found them asleep on the floor.

My husband used to enjoy a few quiet beers but he never got drunk until this friend showed up. Please tell me what to do.

LOST WEEKENDS

Dear Lost: Go to the director of the veteran's hospital. Ask to speak to the doctor in charge of your husband's friend. Describe the weekends.

When the patient is restricted to the hospital (as he surely will be) everyone will be a lot better off.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter who is a senior in college became engaged to a young sailor. Harvey is assigned to a ship at a nearby naval base.

When Harvey is in port, he sleeps on a cot in the basement and keeps his civilian clothes in our closet. I like Harvey but I don't think he ought to be sleeping here weekends and cluttering up our closets with his clothes.

My wife, daughter and I have been having some bitter arguments over this. We all read your column and think you are a fair-minded person. Please settle it.

Dear Rich: You are bucking the strongest union in the world — a wife and daughter.

I assume Harvey is sleeping on that cot by himself. Since he is going to be a member of the family soon, I say it's OK to let him spend occasional weekends at your home and save the cost of a hotel room.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Compares Kennedys, LBJ To Hatfields and McCoys

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Remarks by a whole flock of Republican bigwigs — including former Sen. Barry Goldwater and Michigan Gov. George Romney — at the recent GOP Women's Conference provided a tidy preview of Republican campaign strategy this fall.

All the speakers in turn pressed their attack on four administration "failures" without letup. The remarks seemed almost interchangeable.

To the Republicans, the Democratic "failures" were fiscal irresponsibility, mismanagement of the war in Vietnam, boondoggling in the war on poverty and — of course — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

Goldwater also found another issue: "The bitter feud between the Kennedys and the Johnson administration — the Hatfields and McCoys of politics."

"The last time I was in Washington," he remarked, "I heard that President Johnson wasn't going to run again in 1968. So I immediately called my old friend Bobby Kennedy to find out if it was true. But I couldn't get him."

"He was too busy spreading the rumor."

Goldwater also took note of Vice President Hubert Humphrey. "As you know, the Vice President speaks kind of fast," he said.

"I was listening to one of his recent talks when a reporter sitting next to me muttered: 'We've just got to have annual sessions. If we don't, who's going to be around to accept the federal grants?'"

"Trying to get anything out of this speech is like trying to get something out of Playboy magazine with your wife turning the pages."

At a recent symposium on changes in American politics, a lively cleric on the panel said he has noticed that "the growth patterns of our politically important big cities are shifting."

He said many cities seem to be sending out long fingers of narrow growth from their central cores. His observations, he added, were made from planes.

"I know what I'm talking about. I'm up in the air a great deal."

A waggish fellow participant chimed in.

"You'll have to prove that, reverend."

Amid the laughter, still another panelist spoke:

"We all know the reverend has much better contacts up there than we do."

British To Distribute Sex Answers On Tapes

By MYRON K. MYERS

URMSTON, England (AP) — British health authorities are planning to distribute a tape recording on sex instruction written by a mother of two children in this Manchester suburb.

The 40-minute tape — "Time To Talk" — offers an example to parents the answers given by an English couple to questions that arise while their children are growing up.

The dialogue topics include birth, sexual organs, masturbation, menstruation, kissing, petting, intercourse, venereal disease and birth control.

"It tells the whole story, we think, in a far more realistic way than by making a child sit in a corner with a book," says the author, Frances Hancock.

In the tape's opening episode, the mother tells her 5-year-old daughter and 8-year-old son that she is going to have another baby.

The children ask where the baby comes from, and she replies: "The baby is growing here in my tummy. God plans everything wonderfully by having the baby grow from a little seed smaller than the seeds we planted in the garden. Daddy gave me the seed, and there is a little place in my tummy for it to grow."

On birth, the mother teaches: "When the baby is ready, it stretches like elastic so he can come out."

Parents should make use of events such as the birth of a baby or a family cat's having kittens to give early and gradual sex instruction, Mrs. Hancock says.

The World Today

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the administration's wage-price guidelines are on the skids, as many contend, what's to replace them as a better device for curbing inflation?

One idea is understood to be getting serious study by President Johnson's Labor-Management Advisory Committee.

A rough outline of the proposal is the government should give up trying to review individual wage boosts and price increases, and quit trying to apply rollback pressures against those which it believes "violate the guidelines" or are "against the public interest."

Instead, it should identify a few major sectors of the economy which are, or are likely to become, serious bottlenecks because of scarcity of materials or capacity.

In each such sector it should develop in detail policies "to mitigate inflationary pressures by increasing supplies and restricting demands" with the "close collaboration of labor, management and operating government agencies" at the state and federal levels.

The proposals were made by John T. Dunlop, Harvard University economist, who has first-class credentials as a labor relations expert, mediator, and former wage stabilization official.

Labor sources suggest there is reason to believe Dunlop's ideas were talked over in advance with administration policymakers.

His paper, delivered April 27 in a conference at the University of Chicago, contains one scrap of evidence to that effect.

The changeover in stabilization policy, said Dunlop, "should be developed through a reconstituted president's committee on labor-management policy."

He spoke shortly before Johnson asked the committee and asked it for advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

The committee will meet again June 3. A six-man task force — two each from labor, management and the public — will bring in its recommendations, if any, for study by the full 21-member body.

Dunlop contends the guidelines, which have been repudiated by labor and attacked in other quarters, had some use in a slack economy but won't work in the pressures of a full employment economy.

Any alternative policy chosen, he continues, must have the respect and allegiance of both labor and management if it is to function. Both sides, therefore, must have a role in formulating the policy.

So far, that's the route Johnson has tried to follow.

In fact, the whole proposal is akin to the informal, emergency bottleneck-breaking machinery he has set up under the coordination of special presidential assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. It works by such devices as unloading stockpiled materials, curbing exports and encouraging imports.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Worthless Remedies Waste Time and Money

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Q — Are garlic or hydrated garlic tablets of any value in the treatment of high blood pressure?

A — No, and the sad part is that, when you use them, you not only waste your money but also lose time that could be spent getting a head start on truly effective treatment. Not all high blood pressure requires treatment but if it is the type that endangers your health, you can't afford to fool around with worthless remedies.

Q — I have disseminated lupus erythematosus (LE) and am confused about all the different kinds of lupus. What is the cause? Is loss of hair one of the symptoms? What is the best treatment for LE?

A — Disseminated LE and systemic LE are the same. Lupus vulgaris is a form of skin tuberculosis. The cause of LE is unknown. Loss of hair has many causes. LE is only one of them.

At present, no cure for LE is known but it can often be controlled by the judicious use of chloroquine, hydroxychloroquine, amodiaquin, cyclophosphamide and drugs of the cortisone group.

Q — Would a young woman with LE be able to go through a pregnancy and give birth to a normal baby?

A — LE does not affect fertility but it doubles the chances of miscarriage and of giving birth prematurely. Babies born at full term, however, show no ill effects from the mother's disease. The LE is, however, often aggravated either a few weeks before or a few weeks after delivery. Any woman with LE who becomes pregnant should have close supervision by her doctor.

Q — What are the symptoms of Cushing's syndrome and how serious is it? Will surgery cure it?

A — Cushing's syndrome is caused by overactivity of the adrenals, usually as a result of a tumor in this gland. It is characterized by an increase in weight, due largely to waterlogging, easy fatigability, weakness, excessive growth of hair over much of the body, hemorrhages under the skin.

Although not a direct threat to life, the degree of severity in some victims may be disabling. Removal of the adrenal tumor and X-ray treatment of the pituitary are the measures most likely to cure the disease.

Bloodless removal of the pituitary with a proton beam or "atomic knife" has been reported.

In those few victims in whom there is no tumor of the adrenals, treatment with the chemical, o,p'DDD, has given good results.

— FYI: o,p'DDD is 2,2-bis(4-chlorophenyl)-1,1-dichloroethane

We, the Women

Learn to Like Her

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to teen-age husbands: "Now that you have married the girl, try to make friends with her." That advice comes from a professor of counseling at San Francisco State College.

How can a very young husband go about making friends with his very young wife? Here are a few suggestions that might help.

Listen to her when she talks. A friend is a person who is willing to listen.

Do things she wants to do, instead of just expecting her to go along with your plans. There is give as well as take in all lasting friendships.

Be honest with her. Friends who lie to each other don't stay friends for long.

Accept her as she is — good points and bad. That kind of uncritical acceptance is basic in friendship.

Encourage her to develop her talents and her potentialities. Instead of low-rating the things she is interested in. Being a wet blanket can smother a friendship.

Don't be jealous of her friends — thinking that she shouldn't need anyone but you. Instead, realize that she needs friends of her own sex, just as you need friends of yours.

Give her sympathy when she needs it. A friend is a person you feel you can turn to for understanding and sympathy when things go wrong.

Confide in her. A friend is a person to whom you aren't afraid to talk about your plans, your ambitions, even your fears and uncertainties.

Learn to like her. You already love her — or you wouldn't have asked her to marry you. But if she is going to be a friend for life, you have to like her, too.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. Engineer Walter Sadoway of Birmingham, Mich., won himself top honors in the annual National Men's Cooking Championship for his potato chip pancakes. They are served with an interesting sausage sauce.

Any good men cooks in your house? If so, turn them loose on the weekend with this potato chip recipe.

Potato Chip Pancakes (Serves 2)
Pancakes with Rims
3 eggs
1-3 cup milk
1-3 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 cup thinly sliced apples
1 cup crushed potato chips

Start oven 10 minutes before baking, set to 400 degrees. Beat eggs slightly. Add milk, then combine flour and salt, beating with beater until smooth. Have 10-inch skillet, tilt skillet from side-to-side so all surfaces will be coated with oil. Quickly turn egg mixture into hot skillet and sprinkle apple slices and potato chips over top. Bake uncovered for 20 minutes. Remove from oven and pour sausage sauce over.

Sausage Sauce
1/2 package precooked link sausages, sliced
1 cup maple syrup
Pan-fry sliced sausages, drain and pour syrup over sausages. Heat on medium fire, until syrup is quite hot.

Blames Teens' Crashes On Glamorous Car Ads

CHICAGO (AP) — A specialist in accident law and a child psychiatrist have blamed glamorous automobile advertising for the rise in teen-age traffic collisions.

Speaking at a conference sponsored by the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago, Jeffrey O'Connell, a professor at the University of Illinois law school, urged Congress and the Federal Trade Commission to investigate advertising which he said encourages reckless driving among teen-agers.

O'Connell suggested the presidents of four car companies visit the Rehabilitation Institute to view teen-age traffic victims and then read the industry's advertisements.

"The contrast between the car makers' safe driving pamphlets," he said, "and teen-age car advertisements is an ultimate example of doubletalk — the one message sensible and responsible, the other totally irresponsible and totally irresponsible."

Dr. Marvin Schwarz, a Chicago psychiatrist, blamed public apathy, glamorous promotion and the unique emotional problems of teen-agers as major factors in accidents.

"Cars," he said, "like cigarettes, appeal to their (teen-agers) sense of masculinity, feelings of superiority, desire for group status and the need to assert themselves."

A Chicago police representative reported there was a rise of 3,000 teen-age accidents in Chicago in 1965 over 1964 and that teen-age drivers received 51,801 citations last year.

The conference was attended by representatives of Chicago area high schools and eight patients of the institute — all in wheelchairs — who served as witnesses to the reality and consequences of teen-age traffic accidents.

TO TOUR EUROPE

Judy Lovekamp, daughter of the Roy Lovekamps of this city, and secretary-receptionist in the offices of Dr. Robert Hartman and Dr. Richmond H. Simmons, will leave June 2 for a three-week European tour with the 32-voice mixed choir of Concordia Seminary, Springfield.

The coming tour of the choir will be the third tour by a seminary choir in Europe. Previous visits were made by Concordia's male choir in 1954 and 1958. During its tour of Great Britain, The Netherlands, France, Germany and Switzerland, the choir will deliver special moments of greeting from Springfield and Lincoln Land to city officials of European cities.

Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffman, speaker for the International Lutheran Hour, will accompany the choir and address audiences at the mission concerts in the British Isles.

Mayer Expects Lucrative Year

BEARDSTOWN—Oscar Mayer and company, according to The Wall Street Journal's Monday edition, is anticipating a continuation of good profits in the coming year.

"This highly successful packer, specializing in processed meats, expects first half earnings to compare favorably with a year earlier when the Madison, Wisconsin concern had a net income of $3,228,112 or 72 cents a share, adjusted for a 2 for 1 split earlier this year," the Journal said.

P. Goff Beach, president, stated: "The anticipated moderate increase in the supply of live-stock later this year should help in producing satisfactory results for the second half of the fiscal year."

Mayer stock continues steady, the asking price increased to 22½ on over the counter sales. The company continues to make good progress in the construction of its $5 million hog slaughtering plant east of Beardstown.

Work is also being finished now on the sewage treatment plant being built as an addition to the Beardstown system for the benefit of Oscar Mayer, and possibly other industries.

Citizens Advisory Committee Boosts 'Sandy Beach'

A motion supporting the Sandy Beach Project was passed at the Citizens Advisory Committee monthly meeting on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

Questions and answers about Sandy Beach Project made up the biggest part of the business meeting.

The project is located 440 yards to the west of the boat docks.

Some of the questions asked were as follows: What will be the cost of swimming at the beach? Harold Walker answered that a definite price had not been set but that the prices would be nominal.

What will present this spot from being destroyed by vandalism as the south side of the lake was a few years ago? The present site on the north side of the lake has a caretaker.

Is Sandy Beach a fill-in until we get a new pool? No. Springfield has a pool at the lake in addition to several pools in the city. Sandy Beach is the start of a new development for recreation for area residents.

It was stated that there are no state regulations concerning bath houses on the beach.

Mr. Walker and Alderman Carl Bourn reported on the project.

The motion to support Sandy Beach was made by Harvey Jarvis and seconded by Vernon Scholfield. The motion passed.

Mayor Byron Holtenbrink stated that to him the most beautiful thing about the Sandy Beach project is the cooperation of citizens of the community and civic groups, working together toward a goal.

Mrs. Friedrich Englebach reported that the Park District is progressing as fast as possible.

Clarence Stallings of the transportation committee was asked to see what information he could gather on providing citizens transportation to Sandy Beach.

Mr. George Davis, Chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee, called the meeting to order.

Present at the meeting were guests Alderman Carl Bourn and Mrs. Margaret Norvell representing William Cole of the Morgan County Housing Authority.

Approximately 100 persons attended the event held at the Elks club.

HIGHWAY BUCKLES FROM HEAT—A section of concrete on Ill. 104, four miles west of Chapin, buckled about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. State highway department crews were dispatched to the area, which was guarded by state troopers, and cut out the section with air hammers and erected temporary barricades. Traffic was routed along the north shoulder of the highway.

Pike Man Hurt In Accident South Of City

A 21-year old Chambersburg resident was admitted to Holy Cross hospital Thursday night for treatment of injuries sustained in a one-car accident.

Morgan county sheriff's deputies identified the youth as Steven Irving, 21, of Chambersburg.

He reportedly sustained a scalp laceration, and was admitted to hospital.

Deputies said that the accident occurred as Irving, driver of the car, turned onto the gravel leading to the lake from U.S. 67.

Irving said his front wheels struck a rut in the gravel road causing him to lose control of the car. Irving's head struck the windshield inflicting the injury.

A passenger in the car, David Potter, escaped injury.

New City Hall Money In Bank, Formulate Plans

Handling a transaction of more than a million dollars is not much different than financing a house according to Robert J. Reuck, chairman of the Jacksonville Building Commission.

Reuck, along with three other members of the commission were in Chicago Wednesday and picked up $1,265,737.54 after signing their names on the bonds, payable in 20 years.

Reason for the excess cash is the interest accumulation since Feb. 1, the date of issue. Jacksonville has received about $15,000 so far and expects to pick up an additional $35,000 during the construction period by investing the money in treasury bills until it is needed to pay for construction.

The building commission met Thursday evening and the interest was paid.

Bluffs Legion, Auxiliary Plan Special Events

BLUFFS — Members of the Bluffs American Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring special events this weekend.

vestments are scheduled to be made Friday. The transaction was deposited in Elliott State Bank and will be paid from there to purchase the government securities. About $100,000 will be held back for land acquisition and other expenses that will be needed immediately. A small reserve fund will be maintained in local financial institutions.

Reuck said the commission could expect a return of about five percent on the invested funds.

Floor plans were delivered by the architects, Nelson and Fernandes of Springfield, Thursday night. Department heads will review the plans and corrections noted before a meeting in mid-June.

Demolition specifications will be ready by July 1 and bids let sometime before July 30. Bids on the construction of the proposed building will be let and construction started in early August.

Reason for the delay was an unbalanced money market for a couple of months.

John Altorfer Featured Speaker At GOP Potluck

John Henry Altorfer of Peoria was the featured speaker Thursday evening at a Republican potluck dinner held at the Elks Club in Jacksonville. The dinner was sponsored jointly by the Republican Woman's Club, Young Republicans and Republican Central Committee.

Altorfer, '64 candidate for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket, told the gathering that the chief issues to come before the public in this year's campaign will be the war in Viet Nam and its many implications and inflation at home.

Mr. Altorfer is a member of the board of trustees at MacMurray college.

Altorfer was introduced by Harris Rowe, candidate for State Treasurer and chairman of the Central Committee. Rowe spoke briefly concerning the reception given in all sections of the state to the GOP Caravan.

Rowe said he and his running mates will have visited every county in the state before the June 14 primary election.

State Senator George E. Drach spoke briefly on the importance of getting out the vote.

John B. Martin, vice chairman of the central committee, presided during the meeting and introduced the slate of candidates. Those who were introduced: Don Adams for state central committeeman; Thomas C. Rose for state representative; Louise Coop for county clerk; Harold E. Wright for county treasurer; Dean Colwell and Clifford Smith for sheriff; Wilfrid E. Rice for county superintendent of schools; and Harry E. Thompson for county commissioner.

THE WORLD IS WAITING...

In ancient times the world waited breathlessly for every new king. It was always man's crying hope, man's fervent expectation — that under a new king the world would be different.

Today we no longer put our faith in kings — nor in any government that does not represent the people. We believe that tomorrow will be determined by the hopes and ideals of the young men and women who today prepare for their role in life.

There aren't any Christmas bells at graduation time. But it would be well for us to remember those learned men — the Wise Men — who came across the desert to Bethlehem. They came to pay homage to a new-born King... One who did change this world.

And the sons and daughters upon whom we look with fond hopes today must find their foundation of faith in the same Lord.

With its ministry of teaching, its inspiration to service and sacrifice, the Church points their path to tomorrow — and ours!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CHAPIN PASTOR BACK FROM TOUR OF BIBLE LANDS

Rev. N. L. Bultman, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Chapin has just returned from a 36-day Bible Lands study tour, sponsored by the Lutheran Seminary at Springfield.

Some 20,000 miles by planes and buses were traveled in the nine countries of Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Greece, Turkey, Italy and Germany. The chief focus was ancient Palestine which is now Jordan and Israel. Boat trips were taken on the River Nile in Egypt, over the Sea of Galilee in Israel, to several Greek islands in the Aegean Sea and down the Rhine in Germany. Many excavations, churches, mosques, museums and Biblical and historical spots were visited, including the pyramids and Sphinx in Egypt and Vatican City in Rome.

There were 54 persons, consisting of students and professors of the Seminary and pastors from various points in the U.S.A., taking the tour.

Polly's Pointers Can You Stretch Woolens?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Will someone please tell me how to stretch and loosen woolen skirts and sweaters that have shrunk and tightened up because I washed them with soap and water? —VICKI

DEAR POLLY—When baby begins standing in his crib, put in a firm soft pillow. He will pull up more easily from a sitting start and have something soft to fall back on. When he starts walking around things, give him a clean plastic trash can, about 18 inches high, put in a couple of toys for balance and watch baby conquer the house without scratching a floor. —LENORA

DEAR POLLY—I insert rubber finger tips, such as office workers use, inside my rubber gloves. The gloves last much longer since my long fingernails cannot penetrate so easily. I save worn-out rubber gloves to use in our shoeshine box so I never get polish on my hands. —HELEN

DEAR POLLY—I am a new bride of only four months and cannot seem to cook for only two without having leftovers. It seems we are having leftovers two or three nights a week. On those nights I always set the table extra nice and eat by candlelight (all the other lights out) and the meal tastes so much better. —MAE

DEAR POLLY—The other day I was baking bread and made a wonderful discovery I want to share with the girls. When you take the bread (homemade, frozen, etc.) from the oven, carefully place the loaf on its SIDE on a cake rack to cool. Use a rack that has long wires running from end to end. In this way when the bread is cool there are marks along the side of the loaf for easy and even slicing. No more guesswork. Even slices every time. —ROSE

Now It's Frank Sinatra 'Senior'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In big letters, marquee of two Las Vegas, Nev., resort hotels half a mile apart seemingly billed the same attraction: "Frank Sinatra."

But in small letters "Junior" appeared under one and "Senior" under the other.

At 4 a.m. Sinatra Jr.'s telephone rang.

"So it's 'Senior' now, is it?" growled his famous father. "Look, kid, I don't like being 'Senior'."

An Admirer

Frank Sr. was kidding, of course. The fact that he has attended 10 of his son's performances in several cities suggests a father proud of a son following a remarkably similar career.

The respect is mutual. Says Junior: "Without question he is the man of the era. He set the style."

Young Sinatra is 22, his father 50. They have the same walk, the same set of square shoulders, the same slender build and tough, articulate manner of speaking.

Swarthy, with dark brown eyes and hair, Junior vaguely suggests his father's looks and, of course, voice.

"The critics said in the beginning I was a blatant copy of my father," the son said the other day. "Now they sometimes notice only a vague similarity. And that I have my own musical personality which has taken time to perfect."

In Footsteps

Young Sinatra is back at his

DEAR POLLY—The other day I was cleaning out the attic and found an old dish drainer. It was in good shape so I painted it the color of my daughter's room and she now uses it as a very neat record rack. Records fit very well in the places where dishes went and the end section, intended for silverware is covered with foil and holds pencils and pens. Anyone with an old dish drainer and a lot of records should try this.—MRS. D. L. K.

DEAR POLLY—To rejuvenate the children's real cloth books, spray with spray starch and then iron. My son is just learning to talk and his books with familiar pictures and words are well-used. The pages were so limp and dog-eared that they stayed permanently curled but we are back in business now.—MRS. J. A. B.

DUNN & THOMPSON

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
PORTOFINO, Italy (AP) — David McCallum was experiencing a rare moment of repose over dinner at an open-air restaurant in this jewel-like Mediterranean village.

"I have never been more tired in my life than I am at this very moment," he announced.

At 9 that evening he had finished a day's shooting on his new movie, "Three Bites of the Apple." It is a spy chase which has had him racing over Italian scenery from here to Venice to the Alps, where he performed a strenuous fight with singer Domenico Modugno at 8,000-foot altitude.

But it seemed to be not merely physical fatigue that was affecting him. He is pursued everywhere by his alter ego, Ilya Kuryakin, television's U.N.C.L.E. agent.

"Just before I went into the last scene tonight, an American tourist asked if I would pose for a photograph 'For the children back home,'" he sighed.

He remains grateful for Ilya, who rocketed him to stardom in two television seasons. But he isn't quite sure how to cope with the clamorous following that he has attracted.

"After my last appearance at Macy's in New York, I decided I would do no more personal appearances in America," he reported. "Such things simply can't be controlled any more. Why should I continue to run the risk of seeing people maimed and injured, including me?"

Then he went to England two months ago before starting "Three Bites of the Apple." His reception? "A hundred times worse than Macy's!"

He is still unknown to Italians, but that doesn't mean his privacy is preserved here. There are generally enough American and English tourists around to start a clamor.

As soon as McCallum finishes the film, he returns to MGM in Hollywood to commence 10 months of shooting "U.N.C.L.E."

The fashion transformation here turns the utilitarian umbrella into a top accessory accent. Double ombre-colored nylon with a long slick "black stick" (left) is one of the newest umbrella fashions—the walking stick with slim crook handle and extra long wood ferrule. Fashion news for girls on the go no matter what the weather is the bold "surfer" print umbrella (right). In rain-repellent cotton with a black and white Polynesian-inspired print it is accented with black ferrule and crook handle. These are Polan Katz designs.

NOBODY BEATS THE GOOD GUYS TO THE DRAW

The Dodge Boys will back competition down every time...and especially now during their Sales Stampede.

How do the good guys shoot holes in competition? With a car that's great...a deal that can't be beat...and a way of backin' up their words that makes competition head for the hills. That's what the Dodge Rebellion is all about. See the good guys in white hats today and cut your Dodge out of the herd.

(You can tell they're good guys—they all wear white hats)

"All we know was it was a very solid session," an authoritative source said. "They met for some time."

No Americans were present at the meeting although it was held at the Marine headquarters. There were reports other members of Ky's ruling junta were present.

The evacuation of Americans from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, followed the burning of the U.S. Information Service

Library there Thursday by a mob of Buddhist youths. A U.S. spokesman in Saigon said the American consul in Hue, Thomas Corcoran, had apparently requested the evacuation, because there was insufficient protection for American personnel and facilities.

The spokesman said half a dozen "essential" Americans remained in Hue.

Two U.S. planes flew the evacuees to Saigon. They included American aid personnel, construction employees, relief workers, teachers, and some Filipinos, Canadians, Nationalist Chinese and West Germans.

Police in Saigon, meanwhile, clashed repeatedly with Buddhist demonstrators but dispersed them every time. One crowd of about 1,000 charged a jeepload of police but shots in the air, tear gas and reinforcements finally put the mob to flight.

About 12,000 persons reportedly demonstrated for 2 1/2 hours in Quang Tri, capital of South Vietnam's northernmost province. The protest was directed against the United States as well as the government. No monks were seen in the throng.

The exodus of foreign civilians from Hue coincided with a declaration by Lt. Col. Phan Van Khoa, Hue's mayor and chief of Thua Thien Province, that he had lost whatever control he held over the dissident northern city 400 miles northeast of Saigon. Buddhists and students demonstrated outside his headquarters this afternoon. He is regarded as pro-American.

On his arrival in Da Nang in a U.S. Air Force jet, Ky denounced the burning of the U.S. Information Service library in Hue Thursday as the work of "minority fanatics" and pledged to protect Vietnamese and Americans in the Buddhist bastion 40 miles northwest of Da Nang.

Ky did not say what he would do. But Thursday, after a mob of youths burned out the U.S.I.S. building, he sent 500 troops into Hue to protect American installations, including a Voice of America station that beams broadcasts to North Viet Nam.

The soldiers as yet did not seem ready for any open clashes with the Buddhists. They were part of the 1st Division.

On the war front, American air cavalrymen wiped out a battalion-size force of Viet Cong in 11 days of fighting in the central highlands, the U.S. command announced today.

Units of the 1st Air Cavalry Division killed 311 Viet Cong and captured 29 during Operation Crazy Horse 260 miles northeast of Saigon, a military spokesman said.

He disclosed, meanwhile, several battalions of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division were engaged in a sweep near the outskirts of Saigon with a code name of Operation Lexington since May 17.

So far, 29 Viet Cong have been killed, 10 captured and large caches of food and ammunition seized, he said.

Over-all, however, the spokesman gave much of the same picture of ground fighting in the past week: allied forces were combing the jungles and rice paddies in search and destroy operations but encountering only light and scattered contact with the elusive Viet Cong.

Vietnamese Army headquarters reported three brisk fights with the Viet Cong 46 miles south of Saigon. The Vietnamese reported they killed 74 Viet Cong, captured 50 and seized 21 weapons in an operation Thursday.

A U.S. Marine patrol spotted an estimated 75 to 100 Viet Cong in an open field near Chu Lai and called in an artillery barrage "directly on top" of the Communists, a spokesman said.

Another Marine artillery unit caught an estimated 50 guerrillas. There was no immediate report on the enemy toll.

just are not able to meet the goals set earlier, regardless of how they feel about voluntary cutbacks.

The McGraw-Hill survey shows reduced spending plans in these industries: steel, machinery, autos, fabricated metals, and petroleum and coal products.

Industries with bigger spending goals in May than in March include electrical machinery, aerospace, shipbuilders, railroad equipment, stone, clay and glass, food, textiles, railroads and airlines.

Of all the companies checked, 42 per cent reported 1966 investment plans were unchanged from March, and 27 per cent reported higher spending goals. Lower investment was reported planned by 31 per cent.

Government reports of business spending intentions usually have run below those of private pollsters this year. But even the government figures showed such a big jump over 1965 outlook that the President moved to seek voluntary restraint lest the economy become overheated.

Malaysian Aide Foresees Results In Coming Talks

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak of Malaysia expressed confidence Thursday that talks he will have with Indonesian officials this weekend will "produce results" toward settling differences between the two Southeast Asian neighbors.

Razak told newsmen he will leave for Bangkok, Thailand, Saturday with an 18-man delegation for negotiations with an Indonesian delegation headed by Foreign Minister Adam Malik.

Razak said "it now appears that Indonesia is very serious and sincere" about ending the armed and frequently violent confrontation initiated by Indonesian President Sukarno when the Malaysian Federation was formed three years ago.

"I am confident that we will be able to produce results," Razak said. "The talks will be straight between myself and Adam Malik."

Until recently, frequent fighting occurred on the borders of the two states with Indonesia.

Campaign

majority leader, Johnson introduced a "clean elections" bill and got 87 senators to cosponsor it. It never was called up for action in the Senate.

The Senate incorporated some proposals similar to Johnson's in a 1961 bill that required fuller disclosure of campaign financing. It carried even fewer teeth than a measure the Senate passed the year before.

Both were pigeonholed by the House. When the Senate approved a $50 deduction for political contributions in the 1964 tax cut bill, House conferees forced it out of the measure.

Chairman Omar Burleson, D-Tex., said his House Administration Committee may hold some hearings on the new Johnson measure, but didn't voice any particular enthusiasm for it. And word was circulating it was too late in the session to expect House action.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee backed Johnson's proposal and said in a separate interview he has been working with Chairman Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., of the GOP campaign group, on a bill to provide a sliding scale of tax credits for small donations.

Magnuson said, however, he expects opposition to Johnson's request that members of the Senate and House be required to report on their outside income from such things as speeches, consultant or legal fees and any other source except from investments.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., who announced he will introduce the administration bill, said this provision covers all "gifts in excess of $100 received by themselves, their wives and children, and of all income from personal services."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon urged at a Washington news conference "legislation that would not impose unrealistic restraints, but would bring about a true accounting" of campaign outlays.

He said both parties are subject to criticism on the grounds of hypocrisy and tongue-in-cheek tactics about campaign spending.

The House Republican Policy Committee endorsed the $100 tax deduction proposal and called for its "prompt consideration."

Political Split Still Exists In Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The campaign for next Wednesday's election is exposing small but eloquent signs that the political cleavage which split this city into warring camps during the 1965 revolution still exists.

Despite long, costly and occasionally successful reunification efforts which followed that revolt, Santo Domingo remains a politically divided city.

The central part of the city, an area of less than a square mile was in the hands of the constitutionalist forces during the rebellion. The greater part of Santo Domingo, and the country, were controlled by the civilian military junta. Units of the inter-American peace force stood between the two sides.

Barbed wire and barricades marked a crude-shaped boundary separating the belligerent zones. The barricades were removed last October.

Juan Bosch, presidential candidate of the Dominican Revolutionary party and the inspiration behind the April revolution is the acknowledged favorite in what was the constitutionalist area of the capital. The preponderance of pro-Bosch signs painted on walls attests to this. Only a few pro-Bosch candidates of Dr. Joaquin Balaguer, the other major presidential contender.

On the other hand, pro-Balaguer signs outside the constitutionalist area far outnumber those proclaiming Bosch. But this cannot be taken as indicative of the voting mood in the capital. For one thing, even today some anticonstitutionalist leaders dare not go into the downtown district for fear of reprisals from the young constitutionalists who hang around the stores and coffee shops along the main business artery. Although Balaguer and

Because of its past record with the Axis powers, Spain has been something of an outcast in the postwar political alignment among the Allies. Opposition to Spain's membership in NATO has continued especially strong in north European socialist ranks and Madrid has not turned in a formal application for membership.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading dragged to the slowest rate of the year as the stock market edged irregularly lower late this afternoon.

Here was the picture near the close:

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.5 million shares compared with 6.09 million Thursday.

The three-day Memorial Day weekend caused many traders and investors to take to the sidelines. Stock exchanges will be closed Monday.

The list was a hodge-podge of gains and losses, most of them minor. Thin offerings were enough to drag down some blue chips, notably General Electric which sank more than 2 points.

Losses of about a point were shown by Du Pont, United Aircraft and Xerox. IBM slipped 2.

Selective strength in nonferrous metals and other groups helped cushion the market. Anaconda was ahead about 2. International Nickel about 1 1/2 and Homestake about a point.

All Big Three motors took fraction losses. Rails showed some weakness. Pennsylvania Railroad was down about 2. New York Central more than a point.

Benguet looked like the volume leader as this low-priced mining issue posted a fractional gain.

Teledyne moved up and down during the session following its wide gains of the past two sessions. It was selling at a loss of a point or so in late dealings.

Northwest Airlines dropped about 4. Motorola 3. Milwaukee Railroad and Chicago & North Western about 2 each.

Steels were in plus territory by a narrow margin on balance.

Owens-Corning Fiberglass picked up about 3 points and Allied Mills gained 2. Superior Oil rose 2. Sharon Steel about 1 1/2 and Owens-Illinois Inc. more than 3.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

U.S. Treasury and corporate bonds were mostly unchanged.

SCOTT TO SIGN SIU BOND ISSUE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — State Treasurer William J. Scott said Thursday he will sign a $12 million bond issue for construction at Southern Illinois University.

Scott said SIU officials agreed with him on procedures for handling and investing construction funds which will be available from sale of the bonds.

SIU officials originally contended the school should invest the money.

Under the agreed plan, Scott said, proceeds of the revenue bond issue will be turned over to the state treasurer's office. He will then act as agent for the university in the purchase of U.S. government obligations on a competitive basis.

Contentends News Picture Captions Are In Error

NEW YORK (AP) — A Delaware congressman raised a question Wednesday about what he termed an apparent discrepancy between news picture captions and a news story in reporting a recent event at Da Nang, South Viet Nam.

Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., D-Del., told the House that The Associated Press and United Press International each had transmitted a picture of a woman lying wounded on a stretcher, a baby beside her. The Washington Star, he said, carried a news story referring to a waiting baby propped against the body of a dead woman.

The Associated Press, after checking its Saigon office, said AP reporter Robert Poos, who was wounded as he left the pagoda grounds where AP's picture was taken, reported the woman was not dead nor was the picture posed. The picture sequence taken by an AP staff photographer showed the mother's arms in three different positions.

In Saigon, Richard Critchfield, the Star's Asian correspondent, said he believed the woman and the baby in the AP picture were the same as he described but he was not positive. He said it was dark and the situation was confused.

Critchfield said he did not mean to give the impression that the specific picture was posed or set up as a fake.

GIVEN AUTHORITY TO FIX DWELLING

CHICAGO (AP) — A court appointed a new receiver Thursday for a slum building once taken over by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and associates.

The Chicago Dwellings Association, a new nonprofit agency set up to renovate old homes and apartment buildings, was placed in charge of the six-flat structure at 1321 S. Homan Ave.

Judge Walker Butler of the Circuit Court also directed the agency to work out a rehabilitation plan with the First Mutual Savings and Loan Association, which holds an $8,500 mortgage on the place.

Dr. King announced Feb. 23 he and two Chicago organizations had assumed trusteeship of the building without consent of the owner, and planned to repair it. The move was part of King's program against Chicago's slums.

But the court later ordered King and his associates not to interfere with the building.

The owner, John Bender, died April 27.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert Bradford, 28, was acquitted Thursday by a Circuit Court jury of the murder of Julio Fazio, 29, whose body was found in a water-filled quarry near Lamont last October.

Bradford was accused of slaying Fazio after discovering Fazio had stolen his wallet and used money in it to buy narcotics.

Bradford said he never knew Fazio.

Another man accused of the crime, Emanuel Ramirez, 36, was found guilty of murder by a jury May 6. Police said Ramirez shared Bradford's apartment.

Helicopter Crash Cuts Electrical Power In West

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A helicopter crashed into a power line in Canada Thursday and electric power failed more than a thousand miles away in Southern California and Arizona.

The Bonneville Power Administration said that when the copier cut a power line in British Columbia, a huge supply of power was suddenly surplus. It surged into the Bonneville lines of northern Washington state, flashed across Oregon and into Southern California.

A California Edison Co. line to Arizona with a light relay setting kicked out. Moments later a slightly heavier relay setting that had allowed the surge south into California cut open a switch between Klamath Falls, Ore., and Cottonwood, Calif., on a 230,000-volt line.

A spokesman for Bonneville added that while the lines connecting the widespread areas were cut, this did not necessarily mean an interruption of service to customers. If the local generation was enough to carry the load at the time, the lights stayed on. This was the case in the Northwest, he said.

Load dispatchers realigned the current flow and the Klamath Falls-Cottonwood relay was closed within four minutes of the interruption. The relay into Arizona was resumed in 11 minutes, Bonneville reported.

Bosox Continue Hot Streak With Edge Over Twins

BOSTON (AP) — Earl Wilson blanked the Minnesota Twins for eight innings and survived a ninth-inning uprising Thursday as the Boston Red Sox won 7-2 for their seventh victory in the last eight games.

Wilson, who had won five of his last six decisions, allowed only one runner to reach third until the ninth. He struck out nine and walked only one. Jimmie Hall's homer in the ninth, followed by singles by Bob Allison, Bernie Allen and pinch hitter Don Mincher gave the Twins their runs.

Rico Petrocelli gave Wilson all the cushion he needed when he led off the first with his eighth homer. The Red Sox shelled Minnesota ace Mudcat Grant with a four-run second and Wilson was in command the rest of the way.

MARIS STILL DOUBTFUL

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris remained a doubtful factor for Friday's New York Yankee-Chicago White Sox game after bruising both knees Wednesday night when he ran into the right-field barrier while making a catch.

Maris' status probably will not be clear until the team works out at Yankee Stadium before the Friday night game. The Yanks were off Thursday.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Tim McCarver's bases-loaded single climaxed a three-run rally in the ninth inning that gave St. Louis a 3-2 victory over Chicago Thursday night.

Dick Ellsworth had held the Cards to six hits and had a 2-0 lead provided by Byron Browne's two-run homer in the fifth when Julian Javier opened the ninth with a single.

After Mike Shannon beat out an infield hit, Ron Santo's throwing error on Curt Flood's bounce allowed Javier to score and Shannon to go to third. Orlando Cepeda followed with another single, scoring Shannon with the tying run.

Ferguson Jenkins relieved Ellsworth and gave an intentional walk to Phil Gagliano, loading the bases, and McCarver followed with his winning single.

Bowens Aids Baltimore's 7-1 Victory

CHICAGO (AP) — Sam Bowens knocked in four runs and collected four hits, powering the Baltimore Orioles to a 7-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday.

Bowens, who has been the subject of a possible trade between the two clubs, delivered a two-run single to highlight a three-run fourth inning rally.

Bowens then capped a four-run uprising in the seventh inning with a two-run double. In between these two hits, he also singled and stole a base. He beat out a single behind second in the ninth.

Pott Ties Mark For Front At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Johnny Pott, a tour veteran from Gulf Hills, Miss., seared the Quail Creek golf and Country Club course with a record-tying eight-under-par 64 for a four-stroke lead Thursday in the $57,000 Oklahoma City Open Golf Tournament.

In second place with 68s were amateur Craig Metz, Bruce Devlin and Tom Wieskopf.

Pott's morning round led a bevy of golfers who broke par of the 7,130-yard course. He tied a course record set in the 1963 tournament by Jerry Edwards of Fort Worth, Tex. Edwards finished Thursday with a 74.

Pott's morning round led a bevy of golfers who broke par of the 7,130-yard course. He tied a course record set in the 1963 tournament by Jerry Edwards of Fort Worth, Tex. Edwards finished Thursday with a 74.

Two of the pre-tourney favorites—Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—ran into trouble. Nicklaus four-putted the first green from 20 feet then came charging back to carry to a one-under total to the 18th green. But Nicklaus' caddy cost him a two-stroke penalty at 18 and he finished with a 73. Player shot a 76.

The penalty on Nicklaus came after his ball went into a bunker. The caddy picked up a rake and smoothed a footprint some 40 feet from the ball. U.S. Golf Association rules forbid any smoothing of the sand while the golfer's ball is in the trap.

Pott, who was 19th among the money winners on the PGA tour this year, used only 26 putts, with 11 in a superb five-under-par front nine. He hit 16 greens and was in the rough only twice. Pott hasn't won a tournament since taking the American Golf Classic in 1963, but he earned $50,896 last year.

Young Craig Metz, the son of the touring pro great of another era, put together a 33-35 for a 68. Devlin had a 34-34 for his 68 and Wieskopf rallied on the back nine for a 35-33.

Hull Named NHL Most Valuable

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, Chicago's Golden Jet who smashed Rocket Richard's one-season goal scoring record, was named winner Thursday of the Hart Memorial Trophy as the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player for the second straight year.

Hull collected 145 points in the voting by hockey writers and broadcasters in the league's six cities. Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens was second with 59 points, followed by Gordie Howe, Detroit's veteran right winger, with 24 points.

Hull, who scored 54 goals and a record-breaking 97 points last season, is the first player to win two straight Hart trophies since Howe did it in 1956-57 and 1957-58.

Hull will receive $1,000, plus $500 for leading the voting in each half of the campaign.

Professional football contracts generally are for one year with a one-year option. Gogolak, a place-kicking star, played out his option for Buffalo in the AFL and recently joined the Giants of the NFL. This prompted AFL owners to say that they would go after NFL players.

Gabriel was the Raiders' first draft choice in 1961 after a sensational career at North Carolina State. He chose the Rams.

Gabriel lost his starting job in Los Angeles two years ago to Bill Munson but regained it when Munson was injured.

"We are very fortunate to have two young quarterbacks of the caliber of Gabriel and Munson," said Rams' coach George Allen when he announced earlier in the day that Gabriel had signed with Los Angeles.

Gabriel's signing followed reports last week that AFL clubs had talk with four members of the Giants-running backs, Tucker Frederickson and Steve Thurlow, receiver Bobby Crespi and center Greg Larson and had been in contact with several members of the Detroit Lions.

The Lions reportedly contacted were tackle Alex Karras, linebacker Wayne Walker, receiver Gail Cogdill and tackle John Gordy.

The future seemed to die down, however, when the Lions signed Karras to a seven-year contract after he said he had rejected an offer from Miami of the AFL. Gordy, however, reportedly was in touch with officials of the Miami club recently and still had not signed his contract with the Lions.

NO ROOM AT THE INN—On Memorial Day, the Indianapolis Speedway is packed for the annual 500 mile race. This year is the 50th anniversary for the event.

275,000 Expected For '500' Monday

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway said Thursday it expects more than 275,000 at Monday's running of the Memorial Day classic.

That's as close as it has ever come to disclosing the attendance at the 500-mile race except to the Internal Revenue Service.

Record Viewers
The speedway also forecast a possible record total of television viewers and radio listeners for a sports event. Not even the IRS will have an accurate count on that.

An oddity of the television coverage is that the race will be seen on home sets in Communist Yugoslavia, West Germany, Italy, Spain and France but only on closed-circuit shows in the United States and Canada.

MCA-TV of Universal City, Calif., will show the golden anniversary race on screens up to 40 feet wide in 200 places like the Los Angeles Arena, theaters and coliseums. A spokesman said this part of the telecast has a potential of 500,000 spectators.

From Andover, Maine, the race will be relayed via Early Bird satellite to Goonhilly Downs on the west side of England, thence to halls in London, Leeds, Glasgow, Cardiff and eight other racing centers in the British Isles. The show also will be fed to 3,000 British customers of pay TV.

Throughout Europe
From London, the telecast will be relayed to Brussels and thence to five countries of the Eurovision network which are paying a flat, undisclosed license fee.

The speedway's own radio network will feed about 850 stations in English-speaking countries, plus a Spanish-language broadcast to Argentina. The show also will be carried by Armed Forces Radio and Voice of America.

The race starts about 12 noon (EDT).
The growing electronic coverage led to a near rebellion of some car owners last year. They contended the total purse, a little over $500,000 in 1964, should be hiked to about $1 million. The ultimate payoff for '65 was $628,399. The speedway has hinted it will be substantially larger this year.

The track has been closed since the final qualifications last Sunday but will be reopened on Friday at 11 a.m. (EDT) to 1 p.m. Friday for final tests of cars. Pit crews will be permitted to practice refueling and tire changes from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The Raiders' announcement followed by hours the Rams' announcement that Gabriel had signed with them for 1966.

"In Good Faith"
"We negotiated the agreed-upon in good faith and consider it binding," said Stirling.

Mantle Has Chance To Top Gehrig

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle likely never will catch Babe Ruth but he can pass Lou Gehrig on the all-time home run list before the 1966 season is over.

Mantle hit two homers in the same game for the first time since Aug. 12, 1964 Wednesday night when the New York Yankees bombed Los Angeles 11-6.

Moves Up
The two homers for a career total of 477, boosted Mickey into the No. 8 position on the all-time list, just behind Eddie Mathews of Atlanta, who has 479. Gehrig is next in line with 493. Of course, Willie Mays of San Francisco, already has set a National League record with 515 and is going after Ted Williams, Jimmie Foxx and Ruth, although the Babe's total of 714 is way out there in outer space.

Mantle flew to Dallas immediately after Wednesday's game to visit his wife, who is in a hospital. In fact, he was taken out for a pinch runner after he was walked intentionally in the eighth. He showered and left the park before the game ended.

Ralph Houk who has seen the Yanks bounce back with a 12-4 record since he resumed command as manager, is pleasantly surprised at the fine comeback of his $100,000 star, who was supposed to be a part time performer.

Improved
"Mickey is swinging the bat both ways better than I have seen him in two or three years," said Houk. "He has no pain and he is running good. The thing that gives me such a good feeling is that he does not buckle with pain in the knee or flinch from a shoulder pain when he takes a good swing left-handed."

It is amazing the way he can throw for a fellow that just had an operation on his shoulder before spring training. He doesn't have any rifle out there but they can't take advantage of him any more and go from first to third on an ordinary single. Did you notice the way he nailed Bob Rodgers? I think it kind of shook him up."

Rodgers, catcher for the Angels, singled to center in the sixth but was out trying to stretch it on a throw from Mantle to Clete Boyer.

Although Mantle is hitting only .273, he picked up 26 points with a perfect three for three night, plus two walks against the Angels. With a man on second and first base open, he was intentionally walked in the eighth as the crowd boomed.

"If you had been Bill Rigney manager of the Angels would you have pitched to Mickey?" a reporter asked Houk.

"If I was Rigney, I'd have walked him," said Houk.

Marichal Wins 9th In 14th Inning, 1-0

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pinch hitter Bob Barton delivered a 14th-inning sacrifice fly that gave unbeaten Juan Marichal his ninth victory of the season as San Francisco edged Philadelphia 1-0 Thursday.

It was the fourth shutout of the season for Marichal, who went all the way and gave up only six hits. The right-hander now has allowed just one run in the last 42 innings and has an earned run average of 0.59.

Jim Davenport started the Giants' winning rally with a one-out triple. The drive to right center got past Johnny Callison, who was trying for a backhand, shoestring catch.

Hal Lanier walked and Jesus Alou, batting for Marichal, also drew a walk, loading the bases. Barton, batting for Don Landrum, flied out to Tony Gonzalez, with Davenport scoring after the catch.

The Giants blew several chances before cashing in the run for Marichal, who struck out 10 and walked only one. Marichal and Jim Bunning staged a brilliant duel for 10 innings before the Philadelphia starter left for a pinch hitter in the 11th. Bunning allowed only

Says Medical Advances Will Cause Catastrophe

NEW YORK (AP)—Medical research is promoting a time when "the surface of the earth will be completely occupied by human beings" and "more and more of them will be senile," a famous British physician warned Thursday.
 "I find this a terrifying prospect, and I am glad that I shall be dead and will have ceased to make my own contributions to this catastrophe long before it happens," Sir George W. Pickering of Oxford University declared.
 Should We Stop? "We may ask ourselves whether it is not time to halt the program of research and development which will make such a thing possible," he told a symposium at Columbia University on "Reflections on Research and the Future of Medicine."
 "The hint of such an idea by a man who has spent the bulk of his adult life in research of this kind savors of intellectual treason," Pickering said.
 "It is inhuman. It is at variance with the age-old ideas and ideals of the medical profession. Nevertheless, we must face up to the probable consequences of our ideas and ideals, and be prepared to revise them."
 "This is something which thoughtful folk should be expected to do, and have not done. It is time we did it."
 Pickering, 61, described strides in research to overcome degenerative diseases, and ultimately to make possible the transplanting or borrowing of human organs for old. But the human brain probably can never be transplanted, he said.
 "The goal of medicine is that of indefinite life, perhaps in the end with somebody else's heart or liver, somebody else's arteries, but not with somebody else's brain," he said.
 "Should it succeed, those with senile brains and senile behavior will form an ever increasing fraction of the inhabitants of the earth."
 "It has been estimated that if we go on reproducing ourselves and prolonging the expectation of life at about the same rate as now, the surface of the earth will be completely occupied by human beings within a few thousand years. More and more of them will be senile."
 Pickering, professor of medicine at Oxford, is known for pioneering work in the fields of high blood pressure, the heart and arteries.
 The mayor said he referred the officer to a privately owned cemetery, the only other graveyard still in use in the city. An Army spokesman said the family was turned down there because the cemetery owners have agreed to sell only to white persons.
 The family said it plans to bury Williams in a national cemetery, but has not yet chosen the one. Mrs. Williams said earlier if arrangements could not be made for burial at home, her son would be buried at Arlington National Cemetery.
 The cemetery here, which has white and Negro sections, is run by the city. The Williams family has a plot there but they say it is filled.
 The lieutenant assisting the family declared that they are not seeking a free plot, just one "not shoved in a corner somewhere."
 He said the family had refused offers of other plots in the Negro portion of the cemetery because they did not wish to take one away from other families. All lots in both white and Negro sections have been sold.
 Williams, killed last week by a Viet Cong grenade, was Elmore County's first resident killed in Viet Nam. Funeral services are scheduled Sunday in Montgomery.

Mom Of Viet War Victim Planning 'Proper Burial'

WETUMPKA, Ala. (AP)—A Negro mother, claiming a burial site offered by city officials for a soldier killed in Viet Nam isn't suitable, planned Thursday to bury him in a national cemetery.
 Mrs. Johnny Williams rejected an offer of a plot in the Wetumpka city cemetery saying, "I do not want my son buried in an out of the way place for unknown people. He was not an unknown. He fought for you (the city officials) and many other people."
 In Washington, the Justice Department said it is investigating the matter, but has received only informal reports.
 A spokesman for the Army said in Washington it was "appalled" that the family could not make the burial arrangements it wanted. He pointed out

College Gets Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced funds Thursday for this Illinois project:
 Millikin University, Decatur, Ill., $740,000 loan to help finance construction of a dormitory to house 132 men students. The loan will be supplemented by $110,000 in university funds.

Minimum Wage Hike Set For '69

7.2 Million More To Be Covered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted Thursday to raise the minimum wage from $1.25 an hour to $1.60 by Feb. 1, 1969, and to extend coverage to 7.2 million more workers.
 The bill, which would give farm workers minimum-wage protection for the first time, passed by a 303-93 vote, with substantial bipartisan support. It has not been acted on by the Senate.

The bill would set up three different wage schedules:
 —For the 29.6 million persons already covered, plus 665,000 non-Civil Service federal workers, the wage would go to $1.40 next Feb. 1, and to $1.60 two years later.
 —For an estimated 485,000 farm workers it would start at $1 an hour next Feb. 1 and go up in two annual 15-cent raises to $1.30 in 1969.
 —For the 6.1 million other newly covered workers there would be two additional yearly increases of 15 cents, reaching $1.60 by Feb. 1, 1971.

Organized labor was dealt a setback when the House fixed 1969 as the date for reaching $1.60. As it came to the floor the bill would have made 1968 the effective date, but amid warnings of inflation and rising living costs, the later date was adopted by a vote of 205 to 194.
 The biggest fights, however, came on the proposed new coverage. During three days of sometimes vigorous debate most of the opposition was directed toward the extension of the act into new fields, including restaurants, hotels, laundries, hospitals and small retail establishments.
 A last-ditch effort by Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., to eliminate farm coverage was beaten, 231 to 168, and a five-vote margin, 200 to 195, kept 1.6 million employees of small businesses in the bill after they had been temporarily removed by an earlier vote.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is how Illinois congressmen voted Thursday as the House passed, 303 to 93, a bill to expand the minimum wage coverage and increase rates.
 Democrats for: Annunzio, Dawson, Gray, Kluczynski, Murphy, O'Hara, Price, Pucinski, Ronan, Schisler, Shipley, and Yates.
 Republicans for: Anderson, Arends, Collier, Derwinski.
 Democrats against: none.
 Republicans against: Findley, McClory, Rumsfeld.
 Recorded for, but not actually voting was Rostenkowski, a Democrat.

The farm coverage would reach only farms that employ a minimum of 500 man-days of labor a quarter. Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., manager of the bill, said that would require seven full-time employees, and would include only the nation's largest farms.

Adversely—It Pays

Johnson Urges Regulation Of Campaign Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 36 million Average Joe Americans would be encouraged to contribute up to $100 to their favorite political candidates under a sweeping election law revision proposed Thursday by President Johnson.

Johnson told Congress the time has come to replace cynicism with "public confidence in the elective process" by modernizing laws he said are "more loophole than law."
 The President sent Congress a proposed bill which he said is designed to achieve four broad purposes:
 "1. It would for the first time make effective past efforts to achieve complete public disclosure of campaign funds. The bill would require all candidates and all committees supporting them for federal office to report, clearly and promptly, the sources of all their funds and how these funds are spent."
 "2. It would also require disclosure by members of Congress of gifts and income."
 "3. It would revise existing law and for the first time make effective the ceilings on the size of contributions."
 "4. This proposal seeks a goal not even contemplated by earlier laws — the active encouragement of widespread public participation in the financing of political campaigns through tax deductions."

Johnson wants a separate line on every income tax form for contributions up to $100 to any candidate or organization in any federal, state or local election campaign or primary.
 "This deduction would be allowed in addition to the standard deduction and would not be limited to those who itemize their deductions," the President's message said.
 Johnson also proposed that:
 —All candidates and all committees supporting federal candidates be required to report every contribution and every expense item above $100. Candidates for president and vice president would be included for the first time under this reporting provision.
 —Members of the Senate and House be required to report income from all outside sources other than investments. This would include money received for speeches and for consultant or legal fees.

Set Limit
 —A $5,000 limit be placed on the total financing that any candidate may receive from any one source. "The present $5,000 limit could not long be evaded," Johnson said.
